Community-Engaged Student Travel Grant, Winter 2019
Overview and Expectations

The Community-Engaged Student Travel Grant provides support to students participating in community-engagement projects and/or community-based research domestically or internationally. The goal of the program is to make engaged learning financially accessible for students across the university and to help ensure that engaged-learning participants more fully represent the diversity of Cornell. The grant program promotes high-quality engaged learning by facilitating pre-, during- and post-trip activities centered around critical reflection.

Activities and Expectations
Undergraduate Engaged Ambassadors and Office of Engagement Initiatives staff facilitate all grant support activities, which include:

Pre-engagement Workshop
Participants begin to examine their identities, biases and assumptions prior to departure, learn the “What? So What? Now What?” critical reflection framework and begin to build a shared community with other grantees.

Attend one of the following:
- Workshop 1   Wed., Dec. 5, 2018, noon, 209 Kennedy
- Workshop 2   Thurs., Dec. 6, 2018, 4:30 p.m., 102 Mann Library

During-engagement Reflective Prompts
Participants and Engaged Ambassadors continue their critically reflective dialogue during the community-engaged experience.

- Reflection     Due Fri., Jan. 18, 2019

Post-engagement Report to Community
Participants summarize their experience, reflect with other grantees and disseminate knowledge stemming from their engaged experiences to the engaged community campus members of students, staff and faculty.

- Final Report   Due Fri., Feb. 1, 2019
- Post-Engagement Debrief    Thurs. Feb. 7 or Friday, Feb. 8, 2019
- Community Engagement Showcase April 15, 2019
